

A modern living room with a warm, wood-paneled aesthetic. The ceiling is made of dark wood with a horizontal grain. The walls are also wood-paneled, with a lighter, vertical-grained section behind the television. A large window on the left side of the room allows natural light to enter. The furniture includes a large, light-colored sofa with dark horizontal stripes on the backrest, two armchairs (one dark with a pink cushion, one light with a pink and green cushion), and a low wooden coffee table. A television is mounted on a wooden stand against the back wall. A potted plant is placed near the window.
